Pwnc | Subject: Ad-drefnu Reach ccc a'r effaith ar newyddiaduraeth yng Nghymru

Annwyl Jim,

Rydym yn ddiolchgar i Alan Edmunds, Prif Swyddog Gweithredu Reach ccc, a Paul Rowland, Prif Olygydd Media Wales, am ymddangos gerbron y Pwyllgor Diwylliant, y Gymraeg a Chyfathrebu ar 5 Awst.

Fel y gwyddoch, mae'r Pwyllgor yn pryderu'n fawr am y diswyddiadau arfaethedig gan Reach ccc a'r penderfyniad i uno Media Wales â'r isadran ar gyfer Canolbarth Lloegr am resymau logistaidd a rhesymau ariannol i gynhyrchu rhagor o gynnwys cyffredinol y gellir ei ddefnyddio ar draws platfformau Reach. Rydym hefyd yn pryderu am yr effaith y bydd hyn yn ei chael ar luosogrwydd ac ansawdd newyddiaduraeth yng Nghymru.

O gofio bod gan Gymru lai o ddarparwyr yn y cyfryngau i'w colli yn y lle cyntaf, o'i chymharu â rhannau eraill o'r Deyrnas Unedig, rydym yn pryderu y gallai gostyngiad yn nifer y newyddiadurwyr sy'n gweithio yng Nghymru arwain at lastwreiddio cynnwys am Gymru, gan ei wneud hyd yn oed yn anoddach i bobl Cymru gael mynediad at wybodaeth a newyddion cywir a perthnasol.

Rydym hefyd yn pryderu bod model busnes Reach yn ffocysu ar gynnwys digidol ac y bydd hyn yn effeithio ar drafodaeth sy'n berthnasol i Gymru. Yn amlwg, mae'r symudiad byd eang tuag at newyddion ar ffurf ddigidol yn hytrach nag ar ffurfiau ffisegol wedi achosi chwyldro yn y sector. Mae Aelodau o'r Senedd wedi mynegi pryderon ers cryn amser fod dull Reach o addasu at y byd newydd hwn, gan ganolbwyntio ar dorri costau a chydgrynhoi, wedi cael effaith andwyol ar y portread o fywyd yng Nghymru. Ymddengys bod y set ddiweddaraf o gynigion yn cyflymu'r duedd hon. Yn ystod y sesiwn dystiolaeth yng nghwmni Alan a Paul, ni chafodd Aelodau sicrwydd na fyddai pobl Cymru yn gweld gostyngiad yn y cynnwys am Gymru, o ran ansawdd a maint, o ganlyniad i'r cynigion hyn.

Rydym yn gwerthfawrogi bod y pandemig wedi dod â heriau enfawr i sector a oedd yn barod mewn trafferthion. Fodd bynnag, rydym yn eich annog i ystyried eto sut y byddwch yn ymateb i'r heriau hyn. Mae'r pandemig wedi cyflymu'r broses o newid ar gyfer nifer o fusnesau, ond rydym ni o'r farn y dylid gwneud penderfyniadau busnes am yr hirdymor ar ôl mynd i'r afael â COVID, yn hytrach nag yng nghanol yr argyfwng. Mae yna berygl y gallai gwneud penderfyniadau arwyddocaol a pharhaol nawr gael effaith fwy difrifol na phe bai'r penderfyniadau hynny'n cael eu hoedi hyd nes bod gennym ddealltwriaeth gliriach o effaith y pandemig ar y busnes.

Rydym yn pryderu nad yw'r cynigion a gyflwynwyd yn fuddiol i Gymru a democratiaeth yng Nghymru. Fel y clywsom gan Martin Shipton a Pamela Morton o Undeb Cenedlaethol y Newyddiadurwyr ar 5 Awst, 'Welsh democracy is served by having a thriving media sector... [and the] constant chipping away at journalists and the number of journalists employed is very debilitating and is not good for Welsh democracy.'

Mae'r Pwyllgor yn eich annog i ystyried uno holl fusnesau Reach yng Nghymru yn hytrach nag uno Media Wales ag un o is-adrannau Reach yn Lloegr, a allai gael effaith ddifrifol ar y sylw a roddir i Gymru o Gymru. Byddai creu is-adran ar gyfer Cymru gyfan yn sicrhau bod y gwaith o gynhyrchu teitlau o Gymru, yn ogystal â'r rheolaeth olygyddol dros y teitlau hyn, yn aros yng Nghymru. Yn eich ymateb i'r llythyr hwn, byddwn yn ddiolchgar pe gallech nodi pa ystyriaeth, os o gwbl, rydych wedi'i rhoi i'r cynnig hwn, gan amlinellu manteision ac anfanteision cynnig o'r fath yn eich barn chi.

Roedd Aelodau hefyd yn pryderu'n fawr ar ôl clywed na wnaethoch drafod eich cynigion â Llywodraeth Cymru. Ym mis Mai 2018, cyhoeddodd y Pwyllgor adroddiad ar newyddiaduraeth newyddion, a daeth i'r casgliad bod dirywiad newyddiaduraeth newyddion fasnachol 'yn fater polisi cyhoeddus dwys, y mae angen i wneuthurwyr polisi ar bob lefel, yn enwedig Llywodraeth Cymru, fynd i'r afael ag ef fel mater o flaenoriaeth'. Yn dilyn y cynigion presennol gan Reach, dywedodd y Dirprwy Weinidog Diwylliant, Chwaraeon a Thwristiaeth wrth y Senedd ar 15 Gorffennaf: 'dwi hefyd yn ymrwymo i ofyn am gyfarfod gyda phenaethiaid Reach'. Felly, rwy'n anfon copi o'r llythyr hwn at y Dirprwy Weinidog.

Oherwydd bod hwn yn fater pwysig sydd o bosibl â chanlyniadau difrifol i newyddiaduraeth yng Nghymru, byddwn yn ddiolchgar pe gallech ymateb cyn gynted â phosibl.

Yn gywir,

Dear Chair

Thank you for the opportunity to appear before the Committee last week. I was already in the process of writing to the committee so Jim Mullen, our CEO, has asked me to include the points you raised in your letter to him in this reply.

We do understand the concern of the committee about changes at Reach but would like to reassure members about the commitment of Reach plc to continue to serve our Welsh audience – whether they choose to access our content via print or our digital services.

Our investment and commitment to our digital services, in addition to maintaining our print publications, are key to the future of our organisation and to the continuation of effective democratic scrutiny of events in Wales. While we were very pleased to hear the appreciation of the committee for the Western Mail and other print publications it is disappointing there is not more of an appreciation of the success of Wales Online which continues to attract a leading audience in Wales. In June the site had 9.7 million unique visitors, compared with 4.9 million in June last year. This is far in excess of the audience achieved by BBC Wales News.

I was pleased to see one of the committee members retweeting a political story from Wales Online recently. Far from the suggestion that we do not regularly cover Committee matters from the Senedd, the truth is we regularly cover them – the links below are some recent examples. In addition to news coverage like the examples below, we regularly refer to proceedings in live blogs or to inform wider reporting. We monitor the scrutiny committee agendas daily, and at the start of the pandemic covered several hearings live – giving them a far wider audience and more comprehensive coverage than would otherwise have been the case.

The impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on circulation sales has been significant but the impact on advertising, particularly at a local level, has been even more dramatic with around 80% of advertisers at a local level stopping advertising across the industry when the impact was at its worst.

It is essential that Reach continues to adapt to the changing media landscape and we believe passionately that the success of our commercial model is key to ensuring a healthy independent local media sector in Wales and across the UK.

There were a number of aspects of the Committee's concerns that we can immediately address.

The first is that there is no "merging Media Wales with the English Midlands" and to characterise this as such is to misrepresent the changes we are making. The Media Wales operation remains as part of the Reach structure with all editorial decisions for our Media Wales titles remaining under Paul Rowland's remit. What we are doing is increasing the efficiency of our organisation by pooling some logistical/commercial operations. By acting more efficiently we can prolong the profitability of our print titles and ensure that we continue to provide the scrutiny that the Committee values.

In terms of the concern around Wales not having a voice at a senior level in Reach – the fact is Wales now has greater representation on the Executive Board than it has ever had with me as Chief Operating Officer of the Group, a former editor of the Western Mail with responsibility for regional titles including those in Wales.

In terms of creating an 'all-Wales' division – this would currently be more disruptive and costly than maintaining the existing structure as historically the North Wales titles have always been part of the Daily Post series produced in Liverpool. We do not wish to add further complexity and disruption to this proposed reorganisation. It should be remembered that protecting the status quo around editorial control in Wales was a driving factor in the way we have implemented these required changes.

With around 20 journalist roles likely to go in Wales as a result of the changes we will still employ around 120 journalists in Wales. We also continually look to innovate and develop new products - illustrating how digital will be part of the solution for local community news.

Reach has significant financial commitments including pension contributions of several million pounds per month. While we were able to take short-term measures to help us through the early months of this crisis we are now at a point where a more permanent solution is required to provide the business with a stable platform and enable it to protect its news titles for the long term.

We will be pleased to meet with the Deputy Minister for Culture, Sport and Tourism to discuss the planned changes and as we referenced at the meeting we will continue to communicate with all members who wish to discuss these matters. We would also welcome Committee support around the recent CMA proposals to address the imbalance in the digital marketplace and would welcome an opportunity to discuss this further with the Deputy Minister. I attach a copy of the CMA recommendations for the Committee's information.

Yours sincerely
