National Assembly for Wales

24 July 2014

Dear Andrew,

During Oral Assembly Questions to me in Plenary on 16 July, you highlighted your concerns about the quality of CCTV provision in the community, predominantly in railway stations. I committed to write to you on this matter.

You indicate your main concern relates to provision in stations. The Minister for Economy, Science and Transport issued a Written Ministerial Statement on this matter on 11 July, which you can find here:

The provision of CCTV elsewhere is a matter for Local Authorities and their partners, particularly the Police. It is for them to review provision and upgrade if they have identified this as a priority. I am not aware of specific incidents of the CPS being unable to prosecute offences because of poor quality CCTV images, however, I would expect them to raise any such incidents directly with the Authority (or Police Force) responsible for the cameras in question.

Regards
Lesley
